HEAVY LOSSES OF GERMANS IN CAMBRAI DRIVE

Hundreds of Prisoners Were Captured By the British

AMERICAN ENGINEERS PARTICIPATED IN FIGHT

Caught In German Rush,
Aid In Withstanding
Attack

(Compiled From Associated Press Dispatches.)

General Byng is regaining bit by bit the ground won by the Germans at so heavy a cost last Friday in the Cambrai battle, now characterized as the heaviest attack ever delivered on the British by the German armies, except in the case of the first battle of Ypres.

The front on the northerly side of the Cambrai, salient having remained virtually intact under the German impact, it is in the region to the southwest of Cambrai that the British have been centering their efforts in the rectification process. Last night they pressed their way eastward to the edge of Villers-Guislain, wiping out much of the German gain in the section most deeply penetrated by the drive. They also made their hold on the village of La Vacquerie on this front good, having repelled a series of attacks.

To the north a portion of a position on the high ground southwest of Bourlon village, which had temporarily relinquished by the British has been re-occupied by them as the result of last night's preparation.

Berlin now claims the capture of 6000 British within the last few days together with 100 guns. Violent German efforts to wipe out the salient before Cambrai have brought little tactical success as General Byng has withstood successfully for three days all attempts to break through. About Gonnelleu the Germans have gained Terrain. At heavy cost and the British have evacuated Masnières, south of Cambrai. The Germans have suffered very heavy losses in dead and wounded and the British have taken many hundreds of prisoners.

In the important sector, west of Cambrai, embracing Bourlon wood, the dominating position in this region, the Germans have made no impression on the British defenses, nor have General Byng's men given ground between Bourlon wood and Moeuvres, the northern side of the salient. Ten heavy attacks against the region of Masnières were driven off by the British with costly losses for the attackers, but a sharp salient involving the village made its abandonment necessary.

Southwest of Masnières, toward Gonnelleu, the Germans still hold La Vacquerie, where it is expected the dead in 12 hours have numbered more than in any similar period since the beginning of the war. The British have reached Gonnelleu and fighting was in progress Sunday in and around the village. In this region the Germans used four or five divisions Friday and attacked in massed formation Saturday and Sunday. At least six or seven divisions were used by the attackers in their fruitless effort to break the northern leg of the salient.

American engineers operating and building railroads within the British lines near Gouzeaucourt, west-southwest of Gonnelleu, were caught in the first rush of the German attack. Many sought shelter in shell-holes, from which they were rescued by British counter-attacks. The engineers aided the British in withstanding the enemy attacks and went on patrol duty at night.

Several were captured by the Germans, but later managed to escape. Northeast of Ypres in Flanders, the British have captured fortified buildings and German strong points on the main ridge, north of Passchendaele.

On the remainder of the western front the artillery continues active. The German crown prince has not repeated his attacks in the Verdun region.

On most of the Italian front the infantry remains virtually inactive, while the artillery is engaged in violent bombardments, especially along the Piave river. On the Asiago plateau the Italians have withstood a local Austro-German attack against Montebelluna, while near Monte Peliccia, along the Brenta, the Italians made a slight advance. Austro-German infantry movements in the inundated district near the mouth of the Piave, have been under Italian artillery fire.

While the Bolshevik representatives planned to enter the German lines Sunday and began negotiations with the Germans, nothing has been reported of their mission.

The Bolshevik leader, Trotzky, has warned the allied diplomats in Petrograd that his government will not permit them to interfere with internal affairs of Russia, especially as to giving advice to General Dukhonin. The demobilization of the Russian army by the Bolsheviks is reported to have begun. The Russian provisional government has reappeared and issued a manifesto asserting it is the only legal authority. It urges the people to disobey the decrees of the Bolsheviks.

GREAT PRAISE BESTOWED ON OUR "SAMMIES"

Services Rendered By the Engineers Extolled By British General

SEIZE RIFLES AND FIGHT BY THE SIDE OF TOMMIES

Shells Fell All About the Americans and Germans
Charged Them

British Army Headquarters in France, Dec. 3.—British troops last night re-occupied a section of a trench on the high ground southwest of Bourlon village on the Cambrai front, which was lost on Friday. The town of Masnières, which was evacuated by the British was shelled last night by British artillery.

The Germans attacked the British positions at La Vacquerie, southwest of Cambrai at 8:45 this morning and an hour later it was reported that they had been successfully beaten out. Today's attack followed three futile attempts made by the enemy to take this village yesterday afternoon.

American army engineers working in the region of Gouzeaucourt joined the fighting ranks of their British allies yesterday and helped them stem the onslaught which resulted in Gouzeaucourt being enveloped for a time.

The German attack was made with greatly superior numbers and every available man was needed on the British side to arrest its onward sweep. The Americans gave every ounce of their strength to this task, both as fighting men and as workers, and the important part which they played has drawn the highest praise from the British authorities.

Many of the engineers seized rifles and fought side by side with the Tommies throughout the bitter day and many scores of Americans last night were armed and sent forward as volunteers to do patrol duty in the inhospitable zone before which a large army of Germans were encamped. One British general in conversation with the correspondent tonight spoke in the most glowing terms of the valuable services rendered by the engineers.

"One cannot bestow any praise that is too high," he remarked emphatically.

Several trains operated by Americans were in the Gouzeaucourt section and hundreds of other Americans were in this territory when the Germans without warning swept forward in masses toward the town. Many Americans working in the rear area immediately provided themselves with rifles and joined the hard pressed British, or turned their hands to other important work. The experiences of these men and of those caught behind the German advance probably surpasses anything which the expeditionary force on the American front yet has encountered in the way of actual fighting.

One of the trains run by an American crew was west of Villers-Guislain which was the first place through which the Germans charged on the southern flank of the offensive. Shells suddenly began to fall about the engineers and almost immediately they saw a horde of grey coats charging toward them. The driver of the engine saw there was no time to linger and ran for a nearby shell hole. His four helpers sought similar shelter and they reached cover before they were seen by the Germans although one of the crew was wounded slightly by a shell splinter. The five Americans lay in the shell hole for hours with the Germans all about them and only escaped after the British had counterattacked and driven the enemy back.

CONDITIONS ARE FAST IMPROVING ON ITALIAN FRONT

Italian Army Headquarters in Northern Italy, Sunday, Dec. 2.—Heavy firing has occurred on the northern line in the last 24 hours in different sectors around Monte Peliccia between the Brenta and Piave rivers and on Melita ridge, running west of the Brenta. Each of the opposing forces hold part of these positions.

The general condition along the entire Italian front has improved distinctly in the last week. The defensive positions on the northern line are now considered as secure as those along the Piave. This with the gathering strength of the Italian and allied forces has relieved the gravity of the situation. Northeast Italy is now enclosed within a powerful barrier on the north and east, which is considered sufficient to hold the enemy.

W. C. T. U. IN SESSION. Washington, Dec. 3.—The National Woman's Christian Temperance Union is holding its annual convention here at the opening of congress before which an amendment for national prohibition is pending. The session will continue through Friday.

KALEDINES, GOSSACK LEADER, STANDS BETWEEN RUSSIA AND INGLOUS PEACE

General Kaledines (cross) and his staff.

With Kerensky down and out, there seems to be but one hope left for Russia. General Kaledines, the leader of the Cossacks, is against Lemme and his proposals for a peace favorable to Germany. According to recent reports from Petrograd, thousands of loyal Russian soldiers and officers are flocking to the standard of General Kaledines, who is reported in control of most of southeastern Russia.

The youngsters will be addressed in Washington by President Wilson, Herbert Hoover and Secretary of War Baker. In New York they will be addressed by Mayor Mitchell.

TROOP TRAIN DERAILED; TWENTY-TWO INJURED

(Associated Press Telegram)

Rockford, Ill., Dec. 3.—The 27 soldiers of the 86th division of the national army and the five civilians who suffered minor injuries when a special troop-train on the Illinois Central was derailed last night near Granger, Ill., were reported in no danger today.

About 800 soldiers were returning to Camp Grant, after a two-day holiday in Chicago, when the accident occurred, one car being overturned. The entire car was thrown into excitement at midnight when exaggerated reports of the accident reached headquarters. After various versions of the cause of the accident had become current the reports simmered down to virtually two causes—a broken coupling and a split switch. The derailed train arrived at camp at 6 a. m. and was met by the ambulance corps. All of the injured were placed in the base hospital.

Surgeons in charge said there were no fatal hurts. Investigation of the cause of the accident began today.

KILLED IN WRECK OF FAST EXPRESS

(Special to The Advocate)

Corry, Pa., Dec. 3.—Two trainmen were killed when the Buffalo Express from Buffalo to Pittsburgh was wrecked on the Pennsylvania railroad near here today. A broken wheel on the locomotive was given by railroad men as the cause.

TWENTY-SEVEN INJURED

(Associated Press Telegram)

Derry, Pa., Dec. 3.—Twenty-seven persons, including a number of passengers were injured here today when Pennsylvania Train No. 22, Pittsburgh to New York, struck a freight car in the yards. The car which had been put on a sidetrack for repairs was so close to the main track that it was sidetracked by the fast passenger train. Windows in eight cars were broken.

ASK STATE BOARD OF ELECTIONS TO REMOVE O'DWYER

(Associated Press Telegram)

Columbus, Dec. 3.—The Ohio Democratic Dry Federation has asked Attorney General Joseph McChes to institute proceedings for the removal from office of John A. O'Dwyer, member and chairman of the Lucas county board of deputy state supervisors of elections. The federation charged that O'Dwyer received $5,000 from the "wets" for "services rendered" during the recent wet and dry campaign.

It is said several other cases will be brought to the state board's attention for the making of false statements by successful candidates, to county deputy state supervisors of elections.

UNITED STATES DRY IN NEXT TWO YEARS BRYAN PREDICTS

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, Dec. 3.—Patriotic ceremonies, including "the salute to the flag," committee reports and the address of the president, Miss Anna A. Gordon, engaged the attention here today of nearly 1000 delegates to the annual convention of the W. C. T. U.

The energies of the convention will be devoted largely to the fight for passage by the house of the prohibition amendment resolution already adopted by the senate. "The Path of Patriotism," was the subject chosen by Miss Gordon for her address. Ratification of the states of a prohibition amendment within two years was predicted sharply by William Jennings Bryan, speaking before the opening session of the W. C. T. U. With 26 states already dry and prohibition territory spreading in others, Mr. Bryan said a federal amendment before 1920 seemed certain.

Nearly 1000 delegates, representing every state are here for the convention, and will continue until next Friday. The national officers are preparing to devote their energies to the fight for passage by the house of the amendment resolution already passed by the senate. They already profess to be confident that the house will act favorably before Christmas.

OHIO'S QUOTA IN THRIFT CAMPAIGN IS $105,227,680

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, Dec. 3.—War savings stamps sent on sale at postoffices and banks throughout the country for the first time today. Before the week is finished thousands of other agencies for their distribution will be established in the hope of promoting the most thoroughly organized campaign of systematic thrift and of gathering war funds in the world's history.

The $2,000,000,000 which the government expects to get within the next year was apportioned today among the states at the rate of $200 for each inhabitant. Latest estimates used in determining draft quotas were employed by the war savings leaders in figuring the apportionments. Ohio's quota is $105,227,680.

In a statement Secretary McAdoo declared war savings stamps would mark an epoch in the Nation's life. "Every man, woman and child," he said, "now can join the growing army that provides the 'sinews of war' for war savings stamps make it possible for every local citizen to do his part. The war savings campaign marks the beginning of a new, and I hope permanent evolution of America's life. Self-sacrifice and self-denial have always made real men. The American people have accepted the challenge of autocracy and have resolved to make the world safe for freedom and democracy."

NEW WAR COUNCIL HAS FIRST MEETING

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, Dec. 3.—The first meeting of the new war council today was without decision on important questions because of the absence of five members, including three cabinet officers, Food Administrator Hoover and Chairman Hurley of the shipping board.

Criticism that a council of 12 is too cumbersome for effective work in directing war preparation has received no answer from any member of the council. Director Gifford of the Council of National Defense, and a member of the new war council, said a fair trial of the new organization would be given before any re-adjustment was made. Other members of the council are the five cabinet officers, who compose the Council of National Defense, the secretary of war, navy, interior, agriculture and commerce; Secretary McAdoo, Chairman Hurley of the shipping board, Daniel Willard, chairman of the war industries board, and President Wilson, ex-officio.

The president, however, is expected to attend the sessions only when very important questions are to be considered.

SUFFRAGE LEADERS TO ADDRESS CONVENTION.

Washington, Dec. 3.—Former Ambassador Gerard, Mrs. William G. McAdoo, Dr. Anna Howard Shaw and Representative Jeannette Rankin are among those on the program to address members of the National American Woman Suffrage Association who will meet here December 12-15 in what suffrage leaders hope will be their last convention in Washington.

Confidence that congress will adopt the suffrage amendment resolution at its present session was expressed today in a preliminary announcement of the convention's program issued by the association.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, Dec. 3.—Congress re-assembled today for its second war session but did little more than go through the formalities of the opening. The work actually begins when President Wilson, in his address tomorrow at 12:30 o'clock outlines the administration program for vigorous prosecution of the war.

Estimates of more than $13,000,000,000—the greatest in the nation's history—submitted to congress as the basis for computing the cost of the war during the fiscal year 1919, gave congress some idea of the magnitude of its task in putting the full force of America beside that of the allies in the world fight for democracy.

In the senate today, where Sir George Reid, former premier of Australia was a distinguished guest, the session only lasted long enough to appoint members of the committee to formally notify President Wilson congress was in session and to adjourn in respect to the memory of the late Senator Huston.

The house session was taken up with swearing in new members coming to fill vacancies, and the calling of the roll by states.

In both houses there was a pronounced air of confidence and determination to do everything necessary to bring the war to a successful conclusion.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, Dec. 3.—The Sixty-fifth Congress reconvened today for its second and "long" session, with the leaders prepared to stay here until next autumn.

As in the special war session which ended October 6, prosecution of the war is the principal task facing the legislators. Today's opening meeting was as usual brief and preliminary, accompanied by the ordinary scenes of a new session—handshaking and other felicitations with well filled galleries and much bustle and confusion. After appointment of committees by both bodies to notify President Wilson and each other of their presence for duty and fixing their daily meeting hour at 12 o'clock, the Senate and House adjourned until tomorrow out of respect to members who died during the recess—Senator Huston of Wisconsin and Representative Martin of Illinois.

The keynote of the legislative program will be sounded Tuesday by President Wilson in his opening address to be delivered in the house chamber at 12:30 p. m. at a joint session. It will be the president's first appearance before congress since the night meeting of April 2 at the opening of the special session called to permit him to ask for a declaration of war against Germany.

Organization of both Senate and House under Democratic control having been effected at the special session, both sides were ready to plunge into the mass of waiting business legislation, however, is not expected to get into full swing until next month, after the Christmas recess, although there is some agitation to forego the holiday.

Tomorrow will come the initial flood of bills, resolutions and petitions. Among the latter are many petitions accumulated during the recess, demanding the expulsion of Senator La Follette of Wisconsin for alleged disloyalty. His speech last September at St. Paul, Minn., was considered today by the Senate privileges and elections committee in connection with a sub-committee's investigation.

General miscellaneous legislation is to come immediately before Congress, possibly including some measures affecting this country's course in the war in view of widespread sentiment among returning members for declarations of war against Germany's allies, Austria-Hungary, Turkey and Bulgaria. Congress is expected, however, to follow the views of the President in this respect.

Appropriation measures will require much time. Fourteen general and probably several special supply bills for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1918, as well as estimates of additional money for present war needs, are to be considered, probably immediately after New Year's. Two bills, the legislative, executive and judicial and District of Columbia measures, already are under preparation.

With $21,390,000,000 already appropriated for the present fiscal year's needs, many members believe that, with forthcoming appropriations, the fifty-billion-dollar mark may be reached for two years of war.

New war revenue legislation is not scheduled for active consideration for a month or more. A deficit of $3,500,000,000 in this year's expenditures remains to be provided for.

Political affairs will come in for much consideration during the session, with considerable speechmaking in view of general congressional elections next fall at which thirty-two Senators, nineteen Democrats and thirteen Republicans, and the entire House membership are to be chosen. Many members believe political campaign necessities may shorten the session.

The Democrats start the session in control of both Senate and House with 52 Democratic Senators against 43 Republicans, with one seat—Senator Huston's—vacant. In the House the Democrats have 216 members, the Republicans 213, with five independents and one seat vacant.

TWO WOMEN ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

(Associated Press Telegram)

Dedham, Mass., Dec. 3.—The case of Miss Harriet A. Varney, charged with the murder of Pauline A. Keyes, which came to trial here today, presented several angles which have attracted public attention. Mrs. Keyes was found dead in her home in Brookline on June 19, last, ten months after her marriage to Geo. H. Keyes, a real estate dealer, by whom she had been employed as a stenographer. A revolver and a note on the table near the body led the medical examiner to express the opinion that she had committed suicide. Keyes insisted that his wife had been murdered and after a further investigation Miss Varney, who is a nurse, was arrested. Relatives and friends of West Upton, where she was visiting a sister at the time said that she had been known there as Keyes' wife. At a preliminary hearing counsel for Miss Varney attempted to show that she took leave with Keyes on the day of the murder and did not go to Brookline. David F. O'Connell, of Worcester appeared as chief counsel for the defense today, and District Attorney Frederick G. Katzmann conducted the prosecution. Judge Philip J. O'Connell presided.

AHLERS TRIAL BEGINS.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Dallas, Tex., Dec. 3.—Mrs. Katie Ahlers, alias Mrs. Katherine Travers, was placed on trial here today charged with the murder of Phil E. Tucker, a Dallas broker, who was shot and killed instantly October 31, on a crowded downtown street. Mrs. Ahlers also is under indictment for killing Miss Myrtle Cunningham, stenographer in Tucker's office who was fatally wounded at the time Tucker met death. Miss Cunningham died in a hospital without having regained sufficient strength to make a statement concerning the cause of the tragedy. Mrs. Ahlers told the police that Tucker had promised to marry her but that on the afternoon of Oct. 31 she had been told Tucker and Miss Cunningham were to be married Nov. 28. Later in the evening she met the couple on the street and the shooting followed. Miss Cunningham, who was 23 years old, came to Dallas two years ago from Pennsylvania, and was highly respected.

Arms and the Girl.
Billie Burke seen in another release here, "Arms and the Girl," a mighty pleasing travesty on the war will be offered at the Auditorium theater today Tuesday and Wednesday.
Billie when the play opens, is motoring through Belgium, and is left behind, just as the Germans, under the command of General Frey, are about to reach the village. Her passport is stolen by a Russian woman, and she and a young engineer get into hot water on suspicion of espionage. The man is to be shot, when Billie declares him her fiancé, whereupon the general marries them offhand. This starts things boiling merrily, and melodramatic adventure and comedy mingle to the final escape into France.
An extra added feature today the two reel Mack Sennett comedy "Are Waitresses Safe?" is shown.

on completing her education and became well-known as a book and dramatic critic on the London Times. Mme. Petrova considered her work on the Times as a means to an end, as it brought her in contact with theatrical people.

Fortunately everything turned out as she had planned and she began her stage career with a small stock company, making a tour of England. Her marvelous versatility was of great aid in her uphill fight for recognition and fame. She secured an engagement to appear in the music halls in England.

Retreat of the Germans.
Manager Fenberg should be praised for having the nerve to book an export price those war pictures that have thrilled the entire country for they have already been seen in all of the Keith-Proctor and Orpheum vaudeville theaters and they have been placed in those theaters in place of some high class vaudeville act. This is the fourth series of war pictures that the British government have sent to the U. S. and is called "The Retreat of the Germans" and it portrays the battle of Arras.

Perhaps the most serious thing about it is that although so much is heard about the monotony of trench warfare, it is different from almost any other war picture the Auditorium has shown so far. In these 12 reels, two to be shown each week until the entire episode is shown, are plainly shown the real thing what our own troops will see and share in.

The first impression one will have will be the extremely hard work there is at the front in proportion to actual fighting. The war now as these pictures make plain, are the matter of digging, getting supplies, road making and railroad building. The second impression is likely to be how every man, healthy and happy, everybody's picture seems to be. The happiness extends even to the German prisoners as they wind their long lines back to the rear. The picture leaves no doubt about the retreat part of the title. The British artillery is seen moving forward over the smashed German trenches, despite tremendous difficulty, with munitions and supplies following in a never ending stream. Even the infantry advances without cover in artillery formation and cavalry at a brisk trot, pursuing the retreating army, making its way somehow among shell holes.

The mine craters made by German explosives at the crossroads, huge as they are, are seen in the following army. The tanks are much in evidence and up aloft the airplanes wheel and dive among the shrapnel puffs. You see the use of liquid fire and many other thrilling scenes and Mgr. Fenberg promises you will long remember these wonderful war pictures shown at his playhouse for six weeks, with a different episode each week. The first episode will be shown tomorrow and Wednesday together with the wonderful five reel Paramount picture "Arms and the Girl" in which dainty Billie Burke is seen at her best.

The nearest approach to living, four lives in one is to visit D. W. Griffith's "Intolerance," that spectacle of four-fold wonders which is coming to the Auditorium next week.

Four lives you may live and not regret it, during a performance of this latest work of the master. One life is Belshazzar and his Princess Beloved in voluptuous, opulent old Babylon; one with Christ in the swarming streets of picturesque Jerusalem; one in Paris in those romantic fearful days when Charles IX. was king and Catherine de Medici wrought the massacre of the Huguenots; and the final one in the underworld of a great modern city with its vices and gangsters and the best one of courage and heroism who saves her sweetheart from paying the penalty of a crime he did not commit.

In "Intolerance," said an eminent critic, "Mr. Griffith has achieved the seemingly impossible. You will have to see it with your own eyes to get the faintest conception of its magnitude and grandeur."

The seats for this unusual attraction will go on sale next Monday and mail orders are now being received.

In Every Walk Of Life PLUTO WATER

AMERICA'S PHYSIC

EXPERIENCE — the great teacher — has proved that man's mental activity depends upon the condition of his eliminative system.

The keen, clear-thinking man of accomplishment is always on his guard against constipation. He knows sluggish bowel action is certain to impair his mental efficiency. He knows, too, that his record as a doer depends upon his general physical well-being and that constipation is the first step on the road to ill-health and premature old age.

Those who work with their brains indoors are more apt to be constipated than those who work with their hands outdoors. During the winter months especially they should insure regular and complete bowel action by flushing the system at regular intervals with PLUTO Water, America's Physic and nature's own remedy.

Bottled at French Lick Springs, America's garden spot of health, PLUTO is a gentle, persuasive, positive laxative. It is also a wonderfully helpful curative agent in the treatment of kidney, liver and stomach troubles, rheumatism and nervous disorders.

Unlike other laxatives, PLUTO does not lose its effectiveness by repeated use and there is no necessity to increase the dose to secure the desired result. For those who are chronically constipated, PLUTO is a remedy of constant dependability; for those who have need of an occasional physic, it is pleasant to take, certain in its action, and has no unpleasant after-effects.

If you can't visit French Lick Springs, you can buy a bottle of PLUTO at your druggist's and enjoy the benefits of its remarkable curative properties.

There is only one PLUTO Water. Look for the little red devil on every bottle. It is there for your protection.

ELKS MEMORIAL.

Every seat in Memorial Auditorium was occupied Sunday afternoon and many late arrivals were obliged to remain standing during the impressive service conducted by the Newark lodge of Elks in memory of members who have passed on. The program reflects much credit upon the lodge. The news columns refer to it in detail.

The memorial address given by Hon. Warren G. Harding, editor of the Marion Star and United States senator from Ohio, was a masterpiece. The senator, who is an easy but forceful speaker, was given the closest attention by the large audience. He spoke with the grace of a real orator, referring to memory as mankind's greatest blessing and paying tribute to the order which has established the annual custom of holding services in honor of their departed brothers. Senator Harding pointed out the value of this service and of the importance and far-reaching effect of acts of kindness and helpfulness which in themselves appear insignificant.

In concluding, the senator called attention to the ten stars upon the Elks service flag which was suspended from one of the upper boxes and paid a just tribute to the men who have left home and friends to do their part towards making the world safe for civilization. He referred, eloquently, to America's part in the great war and to the necessity of unity of thought and action in order that victory may more quickly come to the cause of justice. In this great struggle in which two-thirds of the people of the world are now engaged.

WORLD'S FOOD SHORTAGE

The Advocate takes pleasure in announcing that it has secured a competent writer to provide a series on the above subject to run once a week for six weeks. It is a subject that affects every household.

Any resident of Newark who undertakes to buy household supplies can see that there is a real scarcity of food. One hardly credits it merely on reading newspaper articles. But when he goes to his favorite store and finds foods he has used all his life not to be had, and other, doubled in price within a few years, he begins to realize that there is a real crisis. He begins to ask how long it will last, and what can be done to meet it.

It is a public duty to understand the causes of this shortage, and to know what resources there are that could fill the need. All these points will be covered in this series of editorials in our paper, and no one in Newark should miss it.

Certain causes are obvious. There are 34,000,000 men under arms, consuming 40 per cent more food than if at home working at arts of peace. A large part of them before the war were food-producers.

Daily History Class—Dec. 3.
1753—Samuel Crompton, English inventor, born; died 1827.
1800—Battle of Hohenlinden.
1914—Re-enforcements from France reached Von Hindenburg's line at Lodz and Lovicz, Poland.
1915—United States requested Germany to recall attaches Captain Boy-Eid and Captain von Papen.
1916—Acute cabinet crisis in England. France and England agreed to Russia's acquisition of Constantinople.

ASTRONOMICAL EVENTS.
Star due north at the end of the handle of the Little Dipper is Polaris, also called the Pole Star and North Star. Jupiter shines all night.

Thus we have fewer food-raisers to fill an increased need.

In our country, the trouble began long before the war. We have been meat-eating people, and beef, pork and mutton have been the backbone of our diet. We have today 26,000,000 more population than we had in 1900, and we have 7,000,000 less meat animals to feed them on. It is with difficulty that our people are induced to accept substitutes for meat. Furthermore, our allies are calling on us for nearly half our wheat crop, and wheat with meat has been the largest part of our diet.

Three weeks from tomorrow will be Christmas. It may not do much good to remind some people that there are only 18 more shopping days before Christmas, but all prudent folk will take notice and visit the Newark stores right now while shopping's a delight.

One of the Tiffin papers advertises a front porch for sale. But who in the world wants a front porch in December? If Tiffin has sugar or coal or something like that to offer we'll be interested.

MRS. MARY WALLACE PASSES AWAY AFTER ILLNESS OF YEARS

Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, death called a well-known citizen of Newark, Mrs. Mary I. Wallace, widow of the late Thos. J. and Ann F. Davis, both of whom for many years occupied a prominent place in the constructive citizenship of Licking county.

The girlhood home of Mrs. Wallace was the same in which she died, the old Davis residence, corner of Third and Locust streets. After her marriage she resided for a number of years at 64 North Fourth street.

For a long period of time during the confirmed illness of her husband, in addition to her duties as his devoted nurse, Mrs. Wallace participated in the management of the Wallace store, in which capacity many of the residents of the county will remember her.

In addition to the activities of the home and business, Mrs. Wallace was an earnest and capable worker in the church at all times when it was possible for her to be so, and during the later years of her life, though confined to her house, her interest in the First Presbyterian church, of which she was a member, never waned. Missionary work especially attracted her.

One of the distinguishing features of Mrs. Wallace's life was the loyal friendships which lasted to the end, in spite of the fact that she was confined to an invalid's chair for the past 18 years.

Mrs. Wallace was a sister of Mrs. Jno. E. Dean of the home and Wm. H. Davis of Hudson avenue. The funeral will take place at the First Presbyterian church on Tuesday, December 4 at 1:30 p. m., Rev. Calvin G. Hazlett will officiate.

AMERICAN SOLDIER HANGED IN FRANCE

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Dec. 3.—The execution of Private Frank Cadue of the infantry, for the rape and murder of a seven year old French girl, in France, on Nov. 5, has been approved by the war department.

Cadue was hanged after sentence by a military court martial, instead of being shot as has previously been reported. The record of the trial said he confessed to the crime and pleaded that being under influence of liquor, he did not know what he was doing. Cadue was the first case of its kind to occur in the American army abroad.

GRANVILLE

(Special to The Advocate.)
Granville, O., Dec. 3.—Mayor Coons and H. W. Deming held a rousing patriotic rally in Bennington chapel. They were accompanied by Lieut. John Martin, and each delivered a patriotic speech.

The date on which "Jack and the Beanstalk" will be exhibited in the Granville opera house is Monday afternoon and evening, December 10—not December 15, as was announced Saturday.

A number of Granville people will attend the McCormack concert in Columbus Tuesday evening. Mrs. C. B. White has distributed a number of tickets among Granville people for the New York Philharmonic concert to be given in Newark December 19. The most momentous occasion Licking county has ever known along musical lines.

All singers who wish to join the Englewood chorus for the privilege of singing in the festival concert "Tannhauser," accompanied by the New York Philharmonic orchestra in March, should report at once. Rehearsal tonight at 6:30 o'clock at Recital hall.

Mr. and Mrs. George Walker of Cincinnati, after a brief visit at the home of their parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Williams, have returned home.

Prof. and Mrs. Theodore Johnson have returned from a visit with their mother, Mrs. David Johnson in Parkersburg, W. Va.

Word comes from Texas that Mr. Eugene Finley, the former popular and efficient head of the domestic science department in Houston is leaving her time to speaking for the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A. and Liberty loan, with distinguished success.

FOOD CHIEF FOR GOVERNMENT SPOKE AT LOCAL CHURCH

Newark entertained two noteworthy guests on Sunday evening when Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, chief of the food conservation section of the United States food administration at Washington and Mr. Fred Croxton, head of the food administration in Columbus spoke at the First Presbyterian church.

The concluding sessions of the State Young People's Sunday school convention was being held and the addresses of the evening were given by these noted men. It is to be regretted that the event did not receive greater advertising, but the church was filled, in spite of the fact that there were many who did not know of their coming.

Supt. Blackburn of the association introduced the speakers, Dr. Wilbur, who is a right hand man of Hoover, food controller of the United States, says that the "success of the war hinges upon the food situation."

Dr. Wilbur said that the matter of economy in food and conservation by substitution is a fundamental condition of the war. That the rationing in Italy and France have been reduced and that in reality Belgium is in a starving condition. Theoretically the United States has exported all the necessities it can, but that conservation of food and substitution is necessary not only to feed the allies but our own soldiers.

"It is necessary for all interests, farmers as well as city people," says Dr. Wilbur "to practice the greatest economy in conservation by substitution, or else a serious condition will prevail. The food situation must be looked after else all that will stand between us and Germany will be the allies' fleet and if the food supply to the allies is cut off it will mean a war with German forces on our own soil."

Dr. Wilbur said that conservation was of the first importance for the public good and the welfare of the government.

After the introduction of Mr. Croxton, he opened his address by asking for the co-operation of the people in notifying him of those who were not abiding by the laws with regard to the selling of products. With regard to the storing of products to secure higher prices there is a fine not exceeding $5,000 and two years' imprisonment. He asked for co-operation along the lines laid down and hoped that arbitrary methods would not be necessary.

"The people who purchase products and store them for their own use or speculation are working against the government and assisting Germany. A real patriot realizes fully the situation and will consistently co-operate in the movement because the government faces many serious problems, the greatest of which is food."

"It will mean the furnishing of the splendid young manhood of the country in sacrifice unless we furnish the food needed. The government desires economy, particularly in wheat, meats and fats, by the substitution of corn products."

Mr. Croxton said that five million people in Ohio by the observation of one who has seen and one needless day out of five could feed ten million people, with really no real sacrifice.

Mr. Croxton concluded by saying the conservation of food meant the conservation of our soldiers and that every citizen should do his or her part.

MAY SEND JAIL BREAKER TO THE OHIO PENITENTIARY

It is probable that the local authorities will have Wm. Mallonee, who was arrested at Canton, Saturday, on a vagrancy charge sent to the penitentiary from the Canton jail.

Mallonee, who hails from Newark, escaped from the city prison here after he had dug his way through the wall. Originally he was arrested with "Lutch" Wood on a charge of burglarizing the Universal Supply company, East Main street. Woods was sent to the pen, but the sentence of Mallonee was suspended during good behavior. Later, he was picked up for being drunk and was put in the city prison pending the time when he could be turned over to the pen authorities.

He made his escape and was not heard from until the Canton police picked him up. He was probably making the trip this time.

WOMAN GUILTY OF MURDER.
Winfield, Kan., Dec. 3.—Mrs. Lucille Monrovia, charged with the murder of her husband, Henry Monrovia, last June, was found guilty of manslaughter in the third degree by the jury here before midnight Saturday. The jury recommended that the court be lenient in passing sentence.

A telegram goes on tick when it is sent collect.

THE ADVOCATE'S TALKING POINT

Nothing is so hard for those who are not in riches, as to conceive how others can live in want.—Swift.

Can't Watch Its Step.
The reason why verse libre crawls, and over all the page it sprawls, is, though of feet it has enough, its legs are nothing but a bluff.

A Second Solomon.
Aunt Caline says: Last nite I was in to Ole Cabbage's an' little Strong, which is Ole's son, was a-readin' reel er nest into a book.

At last he looks up an' says he, "Paw, what is a p-h-o-e-w-i-x?" says he, a-spellin' it, "Oh, I reel careful." "Oh," says Ole, a-interrupin' himself in the middle o' what he was a-sayin' to Zeke, "don't you know that, Strong? Why a phoenix is one o' these here insurance companies," he says.

Patience and Imagination.
Ellis Perrott Blister, the fly-fishing expert of Pike county, said at a banquet at the Delaware Water Gap.

"The prime virtue of a good angler is patience. No man or boy ever developed into a successful fisherman who hadn't at least twice the patience of Job."

"There's a boy in Shawnee who is going to make a champion one of these days. I saw him fishing the other afternoon on the bank of a creek and I said to him: 'What are you fishing for, son?' 'Saigs,' said he. 'What are saigs?' said I. 'I dunno,' said the boy. 'I ain't never caught none yet.'"—Philadelphia Bulletin.

That the term "diploma," originated in the ancient custom of writing solemn documents on two tablets of wax which were doubled or laid one upon the other? The Roman emperors were in the habit of giving diplomas to public servants and to couriers to enable them to procure the use of the public servants and horses; hence diploma came to signify a royal charter or prince's letters-patent.

AMUSEMENTS PAY MILLIONS TO AID COUNTRY IN WAR

Manager Geo. M. Fenberg, Saturday evening, mailed the U. S. government a check for $1,039,17, special taxation on admission to the Auditorium theatre for the month of November. The "Birth of a Nation" was shown during that time and did a phenomenal three days business, and as a consequence the receipts of the theatre were materially increased.

The above check is the contribution of patrons of the Auditorium to assist the government in the great war which is now raging. Manager Fenberg states that no one has complained of the tax imposed, in fact business has increased rather than fallen off. The additional tax of course compels the manager to do a little more clerical work but he is glad to be able to "do his bit" at this time.

The war in Europe has cost the theatres of the nation, including the film houses, $3,271,116.85 in special taxes. When the cruises and street fairs and other exhibitions are counted the cost in extra taxes has been $3,399,209.05 in special license tax. This is the amount which the amusement business of the country has paid to the government for the privilege of doing business between November 1, 1914, and October 1, 1917. It is exclusive of the vast sum of additional special taxation on admission to theatres imposed under the new War Revenue act of October 3, 1917, and which became effective on November 1 of the present year. This latter tax is expected to net the government something like $30,000,000.

When Congress this year enacted the law which levies a tax on the gate receipts of all theatres, movie houses and places of amusement it did not repeal the previous law under which the special tax was imposed annually on the theatres and movie houses.

EAT WHAT YOU WANT

WHEN YOU WANT IT

People who consistently deny their appetite some particular food appealing especially to their palate, because indulgence has a way of making subsequent suffering, will think this a strong statement. It is a fact, however, that most people can, without fear of distressing consequences, indulge the appetite within reason if the bowels are active and regular. Heavy dinners and late suppers can be enjoyed with impunity if, before retiring, one will take a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a mild combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that druggists sell for fifty cents a bottle. Gentle in action and positive in effect, it regulates the bowels in an easy, natural way, without cramps or other discomfort. Get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from your druggist and keep it in the house. Use it occasionally and you will find you cannot eat most anything you like without fear of consequences. A trial bottle can be obtained free of charge by writing to Dr. W. D. Caldwell, 235 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

WIFE TO BLAME IF HUSBAND DRINKS

Says Druggist Brown of Cleveland, Who Tells Wife What to Do.

A New Treatment Given Without the Consent or Knowledge of the Drinker.
Cleveland, O.—No wife has a right to blame her husband because he drinks, says Druggist Brown of Cleveland. It is her fault if she lets him drink and bring unhappiness and poverty to her home and she has no right to complain. A woman can stop a drinking husband in a few weeks, for half what he would spend for liquor, so why waste sympathy on a wife who refuses to do it. Druggist Brown also says the right time to stop the drink habit is at its beginning unless you want drink to poison the life of the family. The first whiff of liquor on his breath, but do not despair if he has gone from bad to worse until he is run-soaked through and through. Druggist Brown knows the cure of strong drink because he himself has been a victim. He was rescued from the brink of a drunkard's grave by a loving sister, who after ten years' time revealed the secret to him. She knew that her husband, after he had been drinking, drank after him from his own depraved self, by giving him a secret remedy, the formula of an old German chemist. To disprove his debt to her and to help other victims out of the mire and mire he has made the formula public. Any druggist can put it in the hands of any suffering wife, mother, sister or daughter. Just ask the druggist for prepared Tescum powders and drop a powder twice a day in tea, coffee, milk or any other drink. Soon liquor does not taste the same, the craving for it disappears and, lo, one more drinker is saved and knows not when or why he lost the taste for drink.

One woman who used this prescription on her husband says: "It is going on the fourth week since he has touched a drop of anything in the form of liquor or used tobacco of any kind. He seems already like a different man. Tescum has gained a wonderful enthusiasm in me. I regard it as a god-send. Just think, I have never seen my husband sober for more than 48 hours in years and now it is going on one month since he has not drunk."

Another one gratefully writes: "I have used Tescum powders on my husband and find it one of the greatest cures in this world. He hasn't taken a drink for almost five weeks and says he never will. My home does not seem like the same place and I know it is worth living. I hope thousands gain what I have. This has been a good new year for me without drink in my home."

NOTE—Tescum, referred to above, should be used only when it is desirable to destroy all taste for alcoholic drinks of every kind. The wife who approves of drinking in moderation and believes her husband safe, should give it only when she sees him do it. In time that the danger line is near. You take no risk with Tescum, as it is sold in this city under a steel-bound, money-refund guarantee and other first-class druggists. They guarantee it to do the work or refund the money.

RED CROSS BENEFIT AT LOCAL THEATRE FRIDAY AFTERNOON

For the benefit of the Red Cross a special entertainment will be given at the Auditorium theatre Friday afternoon, December 7, "Red Cross Day", will be observed according to announcement made by George M. Penberg, manager of that theatre. This action, he stated, was taken as a gesture of appeal sent from the Red Cross headquarters at Washington, D. C., by Chairman H. P. Davidson, requesting that every vaudeville and legitimate theatre give a special performance on that date for the benefit of the Red Cross work.

Mrs. Penberg is working together with the Newark Chapter of the Red Cross and an entertainment that will be a credit to Newark is being arranged. The musicians at Newark are arranging to have at least 15 men in the pit and will render a special musical program. The entire program for the concert will be announced later.

UNPARDONABLE SIN WAS PASTOR'S THEME

The pastor, Rev. A. E. Cowley, spoke on the unpardonable sin. He gave instances of men whom God had left after repeated overtures of pardon. He said it was a sin against the clearest light. Fishes in Mammoth Cave have only spots where the eyes use to be. Nature destroys that which is not used. When a man commits this sin he has abused and lost his power to ask forgiveness. It was unpardonable because repentance was the gift of God and the man has driven away the giver of it. Its symptoms were indifference to Cavalry's love and Gehenna's fire—no sense of sin or repentance, no realization of danger.

No one has committed this sin who will shed a tear over his sin. There have been those that man. Four sought Christ at the close. It was felt the revival meeting should go on for another week. Meeting every night, but tonight, at 7:15. Everybody welcome.

Everything is going up, even writing paper, in spite of the fact that it remains stationary.

SUMMER SCHOOL, WINTER VACATION, WILL SAVE FUEL

Prof. D. P. McDonald, principal of the Newark Business college, in a letter to the Advocate suggests a practical way to conserve the fuel supply, namely, by having school vacation in the winter instead of the summer. He says:

Everyone who is familiar with the coal situation in this country realizes that the problem of supply is becoming acute. The supply is not inexhaustible. Miners are very often unreasonable. In some cases it has recently been reported the men are not satisfied with $6 a day for eight hours' work. Every few months we are threatened with a coal strike, resulting very often in suffering to the consumers. Very clearly the remedy is a curtailment in consumption. How shall we curtail consumption?

Advantages to be gained are:

1. A saving of millions of dollars to taxpayers in the cost of heating, etc.
2. A saving in cost of clothing and food for children, for children must have more and better food and clothing when exposed to the cold of winter.
3. A saving in doctor bills, for

RECRUITING PARTY WILL VISIT NEWARK DECEMBER 14 AND 15

In order that the many advantages of the Navy may be brought to the attention of the young men of this section of the United States, the Navy Department has authorized a traveling publicity and recruiting party to visit Newark.

The party will consist of two sections; the first to consist of an advance publicity man, the second to consist of the recruiting force proper. The advance man will distribute literature, interview public officials with a view to securing their co-operation; and give publicity to the fact that the recruiting party will be in town to give preliminary examinations. The advance man will be in Newark December 7 and 8, the recruiting party Dec. 14 and 15.

Any man wishing to be examined will apply at the office; make out an application, when he will be given the preliminary examination. If he passes this physical examination, he will be given a ticket to Portsmouth, N. H., and told to report to the Navy Recruiting Station at that place for the physical examination. Upon the completion of this final examination, if the applicant passes, he will be enlisted and sent to the Training Station, Norfolk, Va.; if he fails to pass, he will be given a ticket for a return trip to his home.

The greatest obstacle the Navy Department has to overcome in securing recruits for the Navy is the old time, worn-out tradition that the Navy is made up of men from the lowest strata of life. This traveling party is sent out to impress upon the public, the good, clean, healthy life of the modern navy-war-men and the high morale of the enlisted personnel of the present day navy.

In view of this fact, it is the idea of the Navy Department to implant the seed of thought; to impress upon the young men of the country that the Navy of the present day is a great institution; that it is the place for intelligent, honest, upright young men, and that a four year enlistment will be of incalculable benefit to any man. The advance man comes to Newark December 7 and the recruiting party will be here December 14 and 15.

Clifford N. Spicer, R. D. 3, Utica, O., whose address now is U. S. S. Galatea, care Postmaster New York, writes from an Atlantic port to the Advocate as follows:

As it is a pleasure for me to write to my old country, I am trying to do so. I cannot forget the nice winter old Licking gave me. After leaving Newport, R. I., I was stationed at Boston, Mass., and liking it very well, I stayed as long as I could. I have never since in any nicer place than Boston since I left home. I must say that I was never treated any better. Saint Paul's Cathedral should be praised for its work for enlisted men. I hope you will put my letter in the Advocate, so my many friends in dear old Licking county can see how I feel. Well, I must bid a farewell to old Licking and say good-bye for awhile. So good luck and God be with you. All till we meet again.

HON. WARREN G. HARDING DELIVERS BRILLIANT ADDRESS AT THE ELKS' MEMORIAL SERVICE AT AUDITORIUM

The annual memorial service of the Elk lodge of this city was held at the Auditorium theatre Sunday afternoon and every available seat was occupied. The balcony and galleries also being crowded. It was pronounced by everyone in attendance as being one of the most impressive and inspiring ever taking place in the city.

The service, also designated as the Lodge of Sorrow, is a beautiful custom of Elk orders in every city where a lodge exists. It is held in commemoration of members who have passed away that their memory may be ever kept green and that a just tribute of respect may be paid them by their living brothers. Forty-five members of the local order have died since the lodge was instituted nineteen years ago, eight of them the past year. G. L. Miller, D. J. Taylor, D. A. Hayes, H. R. Scheidler, A. R. Schaller, Wm. E. Smucker, Samuel P. Browne and Dr. John T. Harbottle.

The Auditorium stage was handsomely arranged, a row of ferns occupying space immediately behind the footlights, with palms on either side. Baskets of cut flowers were arranged near the altar, the latter being draped with a silk flag upon which rested the Bible and spreading antlers, used at every Elk service.

The upper boxes were draped with flags and from one hung a service flag with ten stars, indicating that the number of members were in the service of their country.

The exercises opened with the "Star Spangled Banner," by the Auditorium orchestra, and as the first strains were heard a large flag fell gracefully from aloft behind those occupying seats on the stage. The officers, speakers, musicians and members of the memorial committee, Messrs R. W. Smith, G. E. Besanceney and F. S. Neighbor, occupied seats on the stage.

WARREN G. HARDING

After the patriotic selection by the orchestra Miss Minta M. Baker sweetly sang "Forgotten," being accompanied on the piano by Miss Maud Duvall of Columbus. Opening services were then conducted by Exalted Ruler John M. Ankele after which the invocation was asked by Rev. L. P. Franklin, pastor of Trinity Episcopal church. A duet, rendered in an admirable manner was the next number, sung by Miss Reba Jury, of Granville and Miss Helen Rossel of this city. They were accompanied on the piano by Miss Lois Lockhart, of Granville, the three young women being students at the Conservatory of Music at Danison University.

Robert L. Rhodes, secretary of the lodge, called the roll of the honored dead and Mrs. Charles W. Miller sweetly rendered "Oh, Dry Those Tears." She was accompanied on the piano by Mr. Geo. M. Penberg. Services were then conducted by Exalted Ruler Ankele, Esteemed Leading Knight Harry D. Hale, Esteemed Loyal Knight Mandel Brashear, Esteemed Lecturing Knight Gus Weigand and Esquire James R. Cooper. This was followed with a pretty duet, "I Love You Truly," by Miss Duvall and Miss Baker, the former playing the accompaniment.

Attorney Fletcher S. Scott delivered the eulogy. He surprised his many friends who had never had the pleasure of hearing him before in public with his splendid oration. He has a very pleasing stage presence and a distinct pronunciation which was heard in every part of the large Auditorium. A eulogy usually presents no opportunity for special oratory but the effort of Attorney Scott nothing except that which is good. Their faults we write upon the sand. Their virtues upon the tablets of love and memory. There is a place where the death knells are never tolled and we all aspire to reach that heavenly realm. Inspired by the love of those noble brothers who have come to perform this sacred duty to the dead.

We come together in all parts of our broad country to tell the virtues of our departed brothers and to hold their lives up, in so far as they are worthy, as examples to be followed, so that we and all men may walk as they walked, just and with charity in brotherly love and with fidelity to ourselves and to our neighbor.

The world has honored those who won fame on the field of battle and has esteemed those who have risen high in the realm of art, literature and statesmanship. It is not for their fame nor for the lustre of their names that we are here to do homage to these departed brothers. It is because they were our brothers and their lives were consecrated to the work of a great fraternity.

But whether our departed brothers were of high or low degree, of rich or poor estate, they were our brothers just the same, their lives were linked with our lives by chains of sympathy so strong that the rust of age shall not corrode nor the decay of time destroy. We say them at our altar as with hushed and measured cadence they voiced our solemn obligation to "Do unto others even as we would that they should do unto us," to cherish and protect the honor of an Elk and the chastity and honor of his loved ones. We heard them profess faith in the divinity of God and dedicate their lives to the noble work of making the world brighter and better and almost instinctively we turn our eyes upward to catch the approving glance of angels as they looked over the battlements of heaven in attestation of the sacred compact. We saw the grandeur of those vows exemplified in their lives, as in the charity which is the rock of our faith they ministered to the misfortunes of others. We stood by their sides when they laid down their burden of cares and though departed, in memory they are with us today. They died in the hope of our creed, which is the hope of eternal life.

The Order of Elks has distinct and well defined purposes. Elksdom imitates no religious rites or ceremonies; yet is not antagonistic to any religion but rather is an adjunct to all. Elksdom places morality, patriotism and love of home as prime virtues to be diligently searched for and conscientiously observed.

We live in deeds, not years; in thoughts, not breaths; in feeling, not in figures on the dial. He most lives who thinks most, feels the noblest and acts the best.

We are led to the realization that there is no such thing as death. The church preaches immortality. Death is only the dissolution of the material side. The power does not allow the flesh to decay. All have seen it come back from the seed that is dropped back into the ground as it withers away at the end of the season. The clouds in the sky furnish the water for the flower, the soil furnishes nourishment and it blossoms again. Disintegration occurs as a preparation for a purer and higher regeneration. Life is God and God is life. Those we love and know so well yesterday know us better than we know them. Our departed brothers are always near and know when we do good as well as when we do bad things. The human family needs helping and if we all lived up to what we ought to be we would all be helping the human family. If we can believe that those about us yesterday are about as still we will have reason to feel better and happier for it. Inevitable as the end of day is the close of life. Since time was, death has been its companion; yet we are never prepared to welcome its coming.

Life is the torrid day. Burned by the wind and sun. And death, the calm cool evening hour. When the weary day is done.

The lesson of this service is that each of us shall so live that when the shadow comes and the death blow falls, those who survive us may truthfully say that the dead hand was open, generous and true; that the heart which has ceased to beat was brave, warm and tender; that the pulse which is still was the pulse of a man. Then shall our good deeds bear fruit so long as we abide in the memory of our brothers—Yea even longer.

There is no song within our glad heart singing.

But has an echo of some minor strain.

There is no happy day its gladness bringing.

But has one hour that's filled with hidden pain.

There is no rose so beautiful, so sweet.

But has a thorn amid its scented leaf.

There is no life so perfect, so complete.

But has its doubts, its cares and bitter griefs.

There is no eye that sparkles clear and bright.

But has been dimmed and with sad tears been wet.

There is no morning brilliant with the dawn's light.

But evening follows when the sun has set.

There is no memory so fondly cherished.

But brings with it some sorrow back again.

There is no heart wherein love never faded.

But has tried and purified by pain.

Hope on, dear heart, although thy steps may falter.

There is a God who watches over all.

What though all things on earth may fade and alter.

Have faith in him who marks the sparrow's fall.

There is a heaven so beautiful, so true.

Where neither death nor sorrow enters in.

Thy Heavenly Father knoweth what is best.

Have faith and leave thy little life to Him.

Mr. Wallace Jackson, violinist of the Auditorium orchestra rendered in a masterly manner a violin solo, "Legende," by Weinaski, and then

Hon. Warren G. Harding of Marion, United States senator from Ohio, delivered a brilliant and inspiring memorial address. Senator Harding stated that we should endeavor to part with the old custom at these services of making them a Lodge of Sorrow in entirety, but rather after doing honor to our departed brothers, make them profitable to all humanity by displaying a spirit of brotherly love that binds together the hearts of all Elks so that we may be kind to our fellows and think no evil of others, so that there may be no barrier of wealth or poverty, of politics or religion to interfere with the duties which we owe to our fellow men.

Senator Harding dwelt on memory and its influence in our lives. He narrated several personal experiences demonstrating the controlling power which it exercises on all. Touching on justice and fidelity he said it was our duty to stop the wanderer who treads paths of wrong and roads of failure and give him whispering words of encouragement, assist him forward so that he may succeed in life. What is grander than service for man? What is better than to help others? What brings greater ease of heart than to know that you are a power for humanity's good?

The Elks' cardinal belief, said the Senator, is love of his fellow men. One of the great principles of the order is charity, the one that gives help to the needy, the other that which does not remember faults, charity without ostentation, the creed of all true Elks. Our order endeavors to be a power for good and to help, better and strengthen the community in which we live.

Senator Harding said that before closing he could not help but say a word about the service flag bearing ten stars which he noticed hung from the box. He meted out words of praise to Elks who had offered up their lives for their country. Two-thirds of the world is at war and we must help win that war in order to make civilization safe for all time to come. The senator said he would make no prediction as to the length of the war but said we all will be called upon to make sacrifices and we must do so cheerfully in order to assist our government in making the whole world safe for civilization for all future time.

Senator Harding spoke convincingly and earnestly. While making no special effort at fine phrasing, he talked right into the hearts of his auditors and made a most favorable impression. The senator was enthusiastically applauded at the conclusion of his address and after the service received the personal congratulation of numerous citizens who called upon him previous to his departure for Washington last evening at six o'clock, in order that he might be present at the convening of congress.

A vocal solo, "A Spirit Flower," was rendered by Miss Rossel, followed by "Auld Lang Syne" by members of the lodge, and the audience was dismissed with the benediction, pronounced by Rev. L. P. Franklin.

NERV-WORTH GAVE
W. H. SHEPPARD
HAPPY SURPRISE

Banished Civil War Veteran's Nervous Ills More Promptly Than He Expected.

Mr. Sheppard is a well-known resident of Zanesville, O. Mark what he says:

"Since I was discharged as a Union soldier at the close of the Civil war I have been in a very nervous condition. Worked at the Brown Mfg. Co. for many years, and after quitting there I was on the Zanesville police force for four years. I was compelled often to lose much valuable time by reason of nervousness, stomach trouble, indigestion and constipation. For the last four years have been unable to do any work. Helped my son in his store until he sold out.

I heard of the great benefits others had derived from Nerv-Worth and bought a bottle. To my surprise I immediately commenced to gain in health and strength and was able to plant and attend to my two large gardens. I am now enjoying good health for my age, 76 years. My stomach trouble and other ailments cured. My wife was also very nervous. Could not sleep. Stomach and bowels in very bad condition. Would have severe vomiting spells. Now her nervousness is all gone. Sleeps fine. No stomach trouble. We regard Nerv-Worth as the best remedy we have ever known of. It proved its worth to us and we cheerfully recommend it to others.
